'CITIZENSHIP AND CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP' TOPIC OF A BROTHERHOOD ADDRESS

Brotherhood Endorses Mrs. Ann. P. Bartlett, W. B. Kirk, H. W. Yarick, Charles H. Muhleman and Howard Walker as Candidates for City Trustees, Subject to the Voters of Glendale at the Election on June 28

The annual meeting of the Federated Brotherhood of Glendale was held last evening in the First M. E. Church. It was ladies' night and the attendance of men and women together was fully 300. A fine banquet served by the ladies of the M. E. church was enjoyed, and then the main auditorium of the church was sought for the business of the evening. Ex-Lieut.-Governor A. J. Wallace was introduced by President Arthur J. Lindley as the speaker of the evening. His subject was "Citizenship and Christian Citizenship." The speaker's main plea was for voters to vote. Good measures are not lost by the votes of the wicked, but by the failure to vote of the righteous. Mr. Wallace said he knew Glendale was not a part of Los Angeles, but he wished it had been at the recent election, for then the ordinance to supplement the Volstead enforcement bill would not have been beaten by 1800 votes. And this measure, he averred, failed of passage simply because people who favored it, mostly church people, too, were either too lazy or indifferent to go to the polls.

Woman's suffrage was extolled by the speaker, not only because it gave a higher tone to politics and insured the passage of more good laws, but because the mothers could not only vote but could instruct their children so they would vote righteously when they come of age.

"It is a great thing to be an American. Like as God led his chosen people, Israel, back to the land of Canaan to teach the heathen tribes around about that there was but one God, so America was set up among the nations of the world to teach the principles of true democracy. The foreigner, on becoming a citizen and a voter must swear allegiance to the flag and to the constitution, a part of which is the 18th amendment. But

IS CHARTER MEMBER OF FIRST FLAG DAY ORGANIZATION

H. A. Bradbury, who resides at 429 Lincoln street, this city, and whose place of business is at 1411 South San Fernando road, has the distinction of being one of the charter members of the first Flag day organization. It happened when he was a young fellow about 21 years of age. Though a resident of Minneapolis, Minn., he was called to Chicago on business and was there the guest of Mr. McWhorter, prominent in railroad and realty circles, who had been instrumental in bringing the Gould lines to the Windy City. It was in January. 1894, and his host invited him to accompany him to a meeting, held in parlor 12 of the Grand Pacific hotel, where he found assembled a little group of patriotic men and women, who then and there formed an organization to promote the establishment of Flag day. He, with others, signed the membership roster, and someone remarked that some day this might become a national institution, but the incident faded from his mind and its significance did not become impressed upon his mind until the last few years. He is very proud of the fact that fate made him a member of that band of patriots and would very much like to have a copy of that roster and read again the names of his associates on that occasion.

HUGE C. E. CROWD ALREADY ASSURED

Howard Brown is beginning to reap the reward of his optimism concerning the probable attendance on the State Christian Endeavor convention to be held in this city from June 25 to 29. The advance registration has now passed 2200, or more than the entire attendance at Fresno last year, and managers always figure on an additional 50 per cent registration when the convention actually opens.

Fourteen counties have already passed their quotas, Mr. Brown states. They have received numbers in their order, they have received first choice of seats in the auditorium and will be in the van of the honor parade of delegates to be held Tuesday afternoon of convention week.

BROADWAY - LOUISE IMPROVEMENTS ON THREE CORNERS

S. P. Stoddard, the realty operator at 219 East Broadway, states that W. S. Knott of Hollywood, who owns the building in which Mr. Stoddard has his office and also the lot adjoining it on the northwest corner of Louise and Broadway, has approved plans for a one-story building he proposes to erect on that corner which will contain four storerooms, three fronting on Broadway, and one in the rear fronting on Louise. While Mr. Stoddard is not informed in regard to the character of the proposed new building, he says without doubt it will be in harmony with the adjoining property that Mr. Knott owns.

The aspect of Broadway and Louise will soon be markedly different from what it is at present. With the new Knott building, which will probably become a reality in the near future, the two-story building which Mrs. Darlington intends to build on the southeast corner, and the attractive new concrete oil station and display salesrooms which Mr. Hooper is talking about on the southwest corner, but one unimproved corner will remain, the lot adjoining the Pulliam & Kiefer establishment, which is owned by a non-resident and leased for a term of years by Mr. Pulliam.

SPECIAL FUNCTIONS MARK CLOSE OF TUESDAY CLUB YEAR

With the close of the year's activities in the Tuesday Afternoon club have come many social functions. Monday, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Merrill Russell on Riverdale drive, Mrs. Walter Stamps, recording secretary of the club, charmingly entertained her fellow officers and board members with a four-course luncheon. The Russell home was beautifully decorated with baskets of mixed flowers and following the luncheon a board meeting was held. The ladies for whom covers were laid were: Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, president; Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, first vice president; Mrs. Charles Temple, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, Mrs. C. E. Norton, Mrs. Mabel Rudy, Mrs. A. M. Hunt, Mrs. John Robert White, Mrs. Merrill Russell and Mrs. Stamps, the hostess.

Mrs. C. E. Norton and Mrs. E. W. Kinney will entertain the officers and board members next Saturday at the home of Mrs. Kinney.

Thursday evening Mrs. Raymond Chase is giving at her beautiful home on North Orange street a dinner to members of the dramatic section of which she is curator, at which covers will be laid for about 60.

Says Stillman is "Home Man"

(By International News Service)

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 15.—Testimony portraying James A. Stillman, former president of the National City Bank, as a "home man" and contradicting the statement that he spent much time philandering with his girl loves, was introduced here today when hearings were resumed before Referee Gleason in the former banker's divorce suit.

TABERNACLE BEING ENLARGED FOR BIG AUDIENCE AT CONCERT

Los Angeles entertainment managers are wondering how in the world Glendale ever managed to get such a wonderful combination for one program as the Orpheus Club and the Zoellner Quartet, each an outstanding attraction, but they do not realize probably, that Glendale has Howard Brown, who is an organization wonder and booster, and to him nothing seems to be impossible, when it is for the state Christian Endeavor convention.

When asked for some particulars about the Zoellners, who may not be known to some of our new residents, Mr. Brown said:

"The Zoellner Quartet is an organization known throughout the country in music circles. It has an international reputation for ensemble work and artistic interpretation of chamber music. That intimacy of thought and ideals which is so integral a part of performing chamber music is exemplified by this organization to the very highest degree of artistic attainment.

"The Zoellners have played extensively in America and Europe. Their wonderful work in Brussels so enthused the mother of the present king of Belgium that she had a special silver medal made for the Zoeellner Quartet which was presented to them after one of their many concerts at the royal residence. No other quartet touring America possesses this distinction."

This is the tenth consecutive season of this quartet in America. It has given over 1100 concerts in America and over 83 concerts this season. It is a remarkable combination of talent and Glendale is indebted to Mr. Brown and to the great event which inspired his effort, for the opportunity to hear at home this musical organization of national repute.

The concert at which the quartet will share the program with the great Orpheus Club of Los Angeles, led by Joseph Dupuy, will take place in the tabernacle the evening of June 24.

Suicide's Hieroglyphics

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—"Goodby, 3066," read a note left by James Kenneedy, who used his last quarter to start the gas meter so he could commit suicide. "I hope you will be happy when you hear I am gone." Police have been unable to learn who 3066 is.

HEARD HIM

The eminent lecturer had just finished his two hours' talk and he was walking back to the hotel with one of the committeemen.

"Do you think the people heard me distinctly?" asked the lecturer, earnestly.

"Some of them did," said the committeeman, as he stifled a yawn, "for I saw them get up and go out."

W. E. EVANS TAKES P. O. PETITION TO WASHINGTON

He Will Deliver it to Congressman Lineberger With Strong Indorsements

W. E. Evans left this morning for New York, whither he has been called by important legal business. From there he will go to Washington to visit friends and to deliver to Congressman Lineberger the monster petition for an independent postoffice, which had been rolled up in this city. The official count had not been made when reported upon by Secretary Rhoades at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday, but he assured those present that it would have more than 2200 names.

Mr. Evans is himself an enthusiastic advocate of a postoffice and the petition will lose nothing by being delivered to Mr. Lineberger by his hands.

From Washington, Mr. Evans will go to Kentucky to visit friends and relatives. He is a member of the Republican state central committee and also a member of the congressional campaign committee for the sixty-first district, but he declares politics has nothing to do with his trip to the east.

CARPENTERS BEGIN ENLARGEMENT OF TABERNACLE

Yesterday seven volunteer carpenters, with two professional builders to superintend them, began the work of enlarging the tabernacle at Orange and Harvard streets to increase its capacity from 2100 to 4000, for which $800 worth of lumber will be needed. Mr. Waterhouse, who built it in the first place, was present and expressed the opinion that the task could be accomplished without impairing the fine acoustics which it now possesses.

It was put up for $1500, as used by the John Brown evangelists, and has been sold to them to be taken down again and used in Los Angeles, but the price realized will not cover the cost of enlargement, for plumbing and other expenditures, aggregating about $700, and it is to meet this bill of expense and some other things that the great concert is being given June 24. If the auditorium as enlarged, is filled on that occasion, as it probably will be with the bill announced, it will be worth the price of admission to see the crowd.

Overdue Vessel Reported

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—The big freighter Harry Luckenbach, one of the largest in the coast-to-coast service, and six days overdue at San Pedro, was reported in wireless advices today to be anchored 550 miles south of San Pedro. The vessel had previously reported engine trouble.

BANQUET SERVED BY GRADUATING CLASS OF LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

The members of the graduating class of the local high school were guests at a banquet served by the cooking classes, under the supervision of Miss Hanson, in the high school cafeteria, last evening, at 6 o'clock. One hundred and twenty seniors were served with the following menu: Pineapple and strawberry salad, roast pork, brown potatoes, apple sauce, string beans, buns and butter. Raspberry and pistachio nut ice cream, cake and coffee.

At 7:30, Wilbur Jones, president of the class and acting as toastmaster, called on Mr. Brown, the president of the board of trustees for next year, for a short talk. Next, Miss Knight, one of the class teachers was called on. She recited a little poem about a "Lady Named Knight." Mr. Hayhurst, the other class teacher, then gave an account of the accomplishments of the class during the past four years, during which time he has been class teacher. Art Campbell was called on next to give a toast to the class teachers. Mr. Moyse, the principal, gave a talk on "Dreams Come True." Tom McNary gave a toast to the faculty and especially Miss Mona Gardner, who has been so closely connected with the class. Carroll Parcher, the editor-in-chief of the Stylus, gave a toast to the Stylus staff, and mentioned the fact that they deserved more credit than was usually given them. Dean Culberson gave a toast to the faculty and office force, which has helped so much to make the school what it is today. Mr. Ferguson, vice principal, made a talk on "One Year from Today," in which he gave much valuable advice. The toastmaster then gave the last toast to the faculty and the students adjourned to the auditorium for class-day exercises.

SEARCHLIGHTS USED ON HIGHWAYS AND RAILROAD FOR FUGITIVE

KELSO, Wash., June 15.—An all-night search, aided by powerful searchlights, which swept the highways and railroad tracks in an effort to find Roy Gardner has been unavailing according to reports received here this morning from posses and the bandit was still at large. Officers are confident he is still in this section, however, for several tangible clues were received yesterday and several times the posses apparently were hot on his trail. But each time the resourceful fugitive eluded them and made good his escape, temporarily at least.

'FLAG DAY' EXERCISES IN ELKS' HOME LAST NIGHT WAS VERY IMPRESSIVE

W. I. Gilbert Delivered the Oration on "The Flag and What It Stands For"—Exalted Ruler Priest Explained Purpose of Service—Invocation Was Delivered With Lights Out by Chaplain McBryde

A reverently patriotic audience of Elks and their ladies, which filled the official hall of the Elks' lodge, assembled Tuesday evening for the ritualistic service in honor of our national flag put on by officers of the lodge with musical numbers contributed by the Elks' orchestra.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, the officers entered in a body and marched to their respective stations. Alfred F. Priest taking the chair of the exalted ruler and others in order, as follows: Esteemed leading knight, Arthur S. Dibbern; esteemed loyal knight, James A. Apffel; esteemed lecturing knight, Earl Patterson; secretary, Willis M. Kimball; tyler, Frank K. Lowe; esquire, G. A. Dockeray.

Flags waved above each station and adorned the walls at other points, and over the altar was laid a gold-fringed silk flag, and at each station was a large jar of red and white flowers, Canterbury Bells and gladioli.

While the audience was gathering a miscellaneous program was given by the orchestra.

Calling the assembly to order Exalted Ruler Priest explained the purpose of the service and called upon his fellow officers in the other three stations to state the attributes of the flag as the symbol of charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity for which the order stands.

Chaplain McBryde was called upon for the customary invocation which was made with all lights extinguished except the star above the flag-draped altar.

Edwin J. Albright "of the home roll," then sang beautifully and dramatically, the "Hymn of Freedom," and Past Exalted Ruler Cameron D. Thom read from the ritual the exceedingly interesting history of the flag and the account of the adoption of the ritual of the flag adopted by the Elks in 1908, making the observance of Flag Day obligatory upon all lodges in the order.

Esquire Dockeray, with the assistance of the three knights, then built up the floral bell upon the altar, roses for loyalty and devotion, lilies

"THIRTEEN" MEANS LUCK FOR D. R. JACKSON

D. Ripley Jackson declares he has been pursued by "thirteens" all his life and for him, that "fatal" number has become a talisman of luck. In fact, it has made him a believer of fate as opposed to coincidence.

As a comparatively significant example of the way it works out, he cites a trip which he made to Portland to attend a Shrine convention, where he was one of the singers and where groups of those who had been prominent were photographed. For convenience in identifying them with a printed list of their names, the men in the group were numbered. When he saw the list, the number printed across his breast in large figures was "13."

When he met the lady who is now Mrs. Jackson and lost his heart to her, he was immensely relieved to discover that she had been born on the 13th of her natal month, for it was an assurance that she was destined for him, and he has never since had occasion to question his faith in Providence. And, by the way, Mrs. Jackson very quietly celebrated her birthday on Monday with a little family dinner at which a birthday cake was conspicuous. When she observed it in 1913, the 13th of June was on Friday, but she found no ill-luck in the combination.

It has happened so often, that he is never surprised now when he boards a train or a boat to be shown to a section or a stateroom numbered 13, and when his present telephone number was assigned him (1237) he at once discovered that the sum of the numbers was 13.

LUNCH FOR TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB AT MASONIC TEMPLE

After canvassing ways and means and methods, the hospitality committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club instead of contracting for the annual luncheon which closes the official year of the club, have decided to serve it themselves at the Masonic Temple and to turn any margin of profit there may be in to the clubhouse fund. It is expecting to serve about 300, and as the function is to come off next week, Tuesday, June 21, reservations will positively close Friday night. Tickets are on sale at the Glendale Book Store through Mrs. Bott, and can also be secured from the hospitality committee, and members who are panning to attend wil need to speak early.

A HEARTRENDING AFFAIR

Movie Actress.—The new cowboy tells me that you and he are not on friendly terms. He hinted you had trouble over an affair of the heart. Who was the lady, and what was the trouble?

Bill the Cowboy (grimly).—Well, if he's told you that much, reckon I can tell you the rest. The lady was the queen of hearts, and the trouble started when I caught him slipping her up his sleeve.

GLENDALE PEOPLE AT FLAG DAY AFFAIRS IN LOS ANGELES

Yesterday, as Flag Day, was the occasion for many patriotic affairs and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett of this city, as a member of the Daughters of 1812, attended a flag raising at the Broadwaytunnel in Los Angeles, the site of old Fort Moore. A nice program was given in connection which was enjoyed by about 200 citizens.

The same afternoon Mrs. Bartlett attending the unveiling of a tablet at Victory Memorial park—a part of Elysian park. There, in the side of a large granite boulder weighing about four tons was inserted a tablet bearing the names of sons of members of the D. A. R. in California who gave their lives in the world war. The list numbered about 20 soldiers and sailors and one nurse. A history of each one was read and then the ceremony of unveiling was performed by a disabled veteran, an over-seas nurse, a sailor and other ex-service men. Mrs. Lyman Stookey, state vice regent of the D. A. R. presided and had charge of the ceremony. First the tablet was presented by the committee in charge to the D. A. R., and it was then in turn presented to the citty, a representative of Mayor Snyder accepting it on behalf of his chief.

Messages from the state regent and others were read and the band of the Page Military academy played.

The General Richard Gridley chapter of this city was represented by its vice regent, Mrs. Houston, by Mrs. Leppelman, Mrs. Preston and others, Mrs. Braly, the regent, not being able to be present.

TEA PARTY FOR MRS. EDWARD LYNCH

At her new home at 422 West Colorado street, Mrs. Harry Lynch is entertaining with a tea party Friday afternoon for her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward Lynch, a former resident of Glendale, who has been in the north for a year or more and who will spend a few days in Glendale before going on to Camp Baldy, where she will pass several weeks.

GLENDALE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAS NEW DUTIES ADDED TO THEIR NOW LONG LIST

To the chamber of commerce of Glendale have been assigned various and multifarious duties; and right well have they performed them. So well, indeed, have they served the people of Glendale that, as is usually the case with efficient people, more and more arduous duties are thrust upon them.

Comes now a dairyman of Glendale before the board of directors of the chamber of commerce desiring that it play "papa" to the whole community. As the small boy who sees he's getting what he deserves from his adversary runs to "tell pa on you," even so this doughty dairyman hath come before the board of directors of the chamber of commerce praying them to make the Daily Press "leave him be!"

He maintains that the campaign of facts regarding the price of milk in Glendale, which this paper is now carrying on, is a "boycott campaign," carried on to injure his business, in reprisal for his having taken his advertising out of the Daily Press.

The chamber of commerce, the dairyman rightly maintained, is composed of business men; his premise is correct, absolutely. But hear his conclusion: Because the chamber of commerce is composed of Glendale business men, "it is the business of the chamber of commerce to protect its members against this dangerous institution; we shouldn't tolerate such an institution; for what one business man gets, another will get."

The gentleman evidently labored under the impression that the chamber of commerce was organized to protect certain interests; whereas, as a matter of fact, the chamber of commerce is an organization of business men, planned, even as is the Daily Press, to promote the best good of the community, not the personal interest of certain individuals, or of any individual.

There are always people who find it hard to understand that anyone can do anything that is not in its essence a bid for money. The great majority of the people of Glendale, however, know and understand that the Daily Press is waging this campaign for lower milk prices not "to gain the patronage of mothers who have babies," but to give the people of Glendale and their babies the aid a community paper can give and should give in a matter such as this.

The editor of the Daily Press did not begin this campaign in reprisal for a dairyman's ad being taken from the paper, as charged by said dairyman; he did not know the ad had been taken out; it was a matter that was taken care of in the business department of the paper, naturally. This laughable accusation calls to mind Aesop's fable of the fly and the cow; the fly was worrying lest his weight should inconvenience the cow, until the latter told him he need not let that concern him, since she had not known when he alighted and she probably would not know when he flew away.

The columns of the Daily Press are open to any dairyman to state, over his signature, the reasons for the cost of milk being 16 cents a quart and nine cents a pint for pasteurized milk. Of course, if none of the dairymen avail themselves of this privilege of throwing information broadcast to an interested public, the only conclusion the public can draw is that they are reluctant to do this lest what they say may be used against them in the investigations now being carried on.

AN OPEN LETTER WITH SEVEN QUESTIONS

To the Ministerial Association of Glendale, Members of Federated Brotherhood and Others:

I am writing an open letter to secure some information about your attitude to the matter of closing the theaters in Glendale on Sundays and thus initiating the beginning of religious legislation in our city. This letter is purely personal and not indicted by any church or organization, and I want it understood that I am solely responsible for it.

Will you not answer the subjoined questions, preferably in the newspapers of Glendale?

We agree on many things, fortunately. For instance, we are solid on the great fact that America is a good country to live in---you, probably, because you were born here; and I because I found that in this wonderful country I could work my way through medical school; and having done so, found it too good a place to leave. We are also all agreed that Glendale is a good place to live in, and, naturally, we all are filled with a lively desire to make it "the best city in the United States." We don't want to do a single thing to militate against this, do we? Hence this letter. As a citizen of Glendale, and one interested in its progress, I ask you the following questions:

1. If America is indeed a land of freedom and liberty of conscience, why enact laws or even establish local ordinances to curtail this freedom?

2. Since religion is conceded to be a matter of conscience and individual choice, why the need of laws to enforce or establish it?

3. Apparently some good folks, including many of yourselves, want to get further recognition of Sunday as "the Lord's day" by enactment, and want to enable the people to keep it more sacred by law—as you are followers of Jesus, who called Himself "the Lord also of the Sabbath day," tell me why He did not force folks to keep it; or, for that matter, why God, Himself, did not make Adam obey Him in the garden? Why were these things left as pure matters of conscience when God could just as well have insisted, instead of giving man the privilege of selection?

4. What do you think the First Amendment to the United States Constitution really means when it says: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," etc.? Is not this a clear-cut and decisive denial of the right of a church to unite with the state and thereby secure the latter's aid in carrying on its work?

5. If you, as ministers of the gospel of Jesus Christ, and your associates, cannot succeed in accomplishing those things expected of you, why not substitute "prayer and fasting" for the policeman and the law courts?

6. It happens that I prefer to believe the Bible in regard to the Sabbath day, and disagree with you as to Sunday being "the Lord's day." Since the Constitution guarantees me freedom in religious matters as well as freedom of speech or of the press (all in the First Amendment), have I not the right to believe as I do just as you have? And has not any other individual the same right? If so, why attempt to involve the Glendale City Council, or its prospective members, or the Legislature of the State of California, or the Congress of these United States in the abridgement of this inalienable privilege?

7. And, finally, what did the Lord Jesus really mean when He said: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's?" Was it not that those to whom He was talking, as well as we who still are permitted to listen to His wondrous words through the Bible, are enjoined to make a distinction between our duty to the constituted authority of our land and our responsibilities to God? Why is not this immutable principle just as true today as it was 1900 years ago?

As I see it, this issue is much more important than appears on the surface. It is not merely a local, civic matter. If the theaters are closed on Sundays it will be an entering wedge for other religious legislation and religious legislation always has meant religious persecution. Remember the Christians in Rome; remember the Waldenses; remember the inquisition; remember the times of Oliver Cromwell; remember the Scotch Covenanters; remember the Huguenots; remember even the Puritan fathers and their so-called "blue laws," about which we hear so much and then tell me and those who will read this letter and are interested in "real Americanism for Americans" why the above contemplated movement, whether before us right now or later on, would be to the benefit of our community.

TRI NU CLASS HOLDS BANQUET

An enjoyable banquet was held in the basement of the First Baptist church recently by 75 members of the Tri Nu class. The class is composed of 65 young men, many of them high school students. Rev. Ernest E. Ford, the pastor, is the instructor, and cordially welcomes visitors. The banquet was the result of a contest, under the leadership of Maxwell, representing the seniors, and Dale Wood in charge of the high school brigade, the younger set winning.

A. Van Wormer, as toast master, in a few well chosen words welcomed the gathering and explained the purposes of the banquet.

Maxwell's talk on "Why We Lost the Contest" was brief and to the point, showing that a little harder work would have won the contest.

Woods' masterful talk on "How We Won," demonstrated the cooperation existing between the members of his team which enabled them to win.

President Rich claimed he was proud of his class and pleaded for all to stand behind the teacher.

Superintendent Kent very ably stated our obligation to be big brothers to the younger boys of the Sunday school.

The pastor amused all present by relating a "Ford" story and then discoursed on the subject of "Our A. B. C.'s," demonstrating nine important words starting with advocate and ending with consecrate.

H. R. Frazer, who is also a member of the Royal Scotch Bag Pipe band, favored us with several pleasing selections on his bag pipe.

Gasser speaking on "Glendale and Why?" stated that it was indeed a pleasure to tell of the delights of living in Glendale and said he had never found any disadvantages.

Boynton in speaking on "Teachers and Teaching" paid the teachers of California a high tribute which was appreciated by all present. He also sang "In the Good Old Institute Time."

The Three M's as delineated by Elliot was a very inspiring discourse on "the mind, muscle and morals" which were conceded to be three big things to be kept in sight continually.

AN APPRECIATED AUDITOR

"Your small boy asks you a great many puzzling questions."

"He does," rejoined Senator Sorghum. "But it's a relief to go home and listen to him. He always believes I am giving him the correct answers, which is more than I can say for my constituents."

Glendale Chamber of Commerce Has New Duties

Milk can be shipped into Glendale from the San Joaquin valley and sold for ten cents a quart. As a matter of fact, a dairyman is now making plans to ship it into Glendale and sell it in Los Angeles, using this city as his distributing point.

This paper is in possession of facts from which it deduces that Glendale creameries could sell milk at ten cents a quart and make a profit.

But the Glendale dairymen do not know this. The statement made by one of them before the chamber of commerce board yesterday was that he "don't know what it costs a quart to produce milk until after the grand jury investigation," and "it's not necessary to tell the newspapers a lot of stuff we don't know ourselves until after the grand jury investigation is over."

Another significant statement made by this dairyman was that Glendale dairymen could not set the price of milk; the producers' association makes a price; the distributers' association makes a price, and it costs as much to distribute as to produce.

The perplexing thing about this statement was that he also stated Glendale dairymen do not belong to this association. One's mind gets "woozy" trying to figure out why Glendale dairymen must abide by the discussion of an organization of which they are not members.

WILLING TO SUPPORT HER

Two young women boarded a crowded street car and were obliged to stand. One of them, to steady herself, took hold of what she supposed was her friend's hand. They had stood thus for some time when, on looking down, she discovered that she was holding a man's hand. Greatly embarrassed, she exclaimed: "Oh, I've got the wrong hand!"

Whereupon the man, with a smile, stretched forth his other hand, saying: "Here is the other one, madam."

BROTHERHOODS ARE TO DECIDE UPON UNIFORM WAGE POLICY

(By International News Service)

DENVER, Colo., June 15.—All the 16 standard railway organizations, the "big four" brotherhoods and the railroad unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, will meet in Chicago, July 1, to decide on a uniform policy of action on wage cuts, leaders announced today.

All the railroad unions in the American Federation of Labor, with the exception of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers and the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way and Railroad Shop Employes are taking a strike vote, it was learned.

The big four brotherhoods, the Switchmens' union and the Telegraphers have all summoned their general chairmen to Chicago, July 1. The wage cut decision applies to these organizations only on 14 roads.

It is believed by leaders in event of the votes being taken by the other organizations declare for a strike they will wait action until all are in position to act.

"No one can predict what the railroad workers themselves will decide," said E. J. Manion, head of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

"The men fear danger of another cut before the year is out and there is no assurance that there will not be."

Mrs. B. (hearing a clash and a jangle from the kitchen).—Goodness! What was that noise?

"Citizenship and Christian Citizenship" Address Topic

the American-born voter, man or woman, does not have to do this. There should be some kind of ceremony gone through with by first voters to impress the greatness of the responsibility incurred."

The speaker touched lightly on the local situation, mentioning no candidates, but earnestly exhorted every voter to go to the polls and assist in electing the best men or women possible for the offices. "You church people," he said, "should not insist upon church affiliations too strongly. You must pick able men. A very good churchman may be a weakling in civic affairs and therefore undesirable as a candidate. Your duty is to go to the polls and vote. If you fail as a citizen, you are a traitor to home, city, state and nation."

At the close of the address President Lindley referred briefly to the June 6th meeting of the executive committee and had W. N. Bott read the minutes, in which the decision to recommend five councilmanic candidates to the Brotherhood for endorsement, namely: Mrs. Ann P. Bartlett, W. B. Kirk, H. W. Yarick, Chas. H. Muhleman and Howard Walker.

R. W. Mottern moved that this action be approved and that the Brotherhood go on record as endorsing the candidates named. Carried unanimously.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds here made a dynamic talk in which he denounced unsparingly the efforts of Los Angeles papers to create dissension in Glendale by false reports of blue law agitators. He also said he proposed as a citizen as well as a minister, to take an active part in every movement to benefit his home city and that his church was solidly back of him in this resolve.

Rev. V. Hunter Brink made a brief address in like vein and W. F. Tower put in an earnest word for the swimming pool project. An invitation from the chamber of commerce secretary to send a committee of ten from the Brotherhood to attend a meeting in the council chamber Friday night to consider the swimming pool project, was referred to by President Lindley and he appointed as such committee W. F. Tower, C. W. Ingledue, George Lemon, Roy Kent, W. H. Reynolds, R. F. Kitterman, George F. Daugherty, John Esterly, W. B. Kirk and C. D. Lusby.

SOVIET RUSSIA IS NO FRIEND OF LABOR

(By International News Service)

DENVER, June 15.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor charged in its annual report that the agitation to open trade relations with Soviet Russia "has been concentrated to a large extent within the labor unions with a view of overthrowing the bonafide labor movement of America as a condition precedent for the overthrow of the republic of the United States."

The report, bitterly attacking the soviet government, says, referring to it: "The labor movement of the world has now a new and powerful enemy."

It also charges that the "Trades and Industrial Unions" section of the communist party in this country is sending out circulars "for the destruction of the American Federation of Labor," using the address of the Queens County Labor Lyceum of Brooklyn, N. Y.

J. H. Thomas, member of the English parliament and head of the British railway workers, who is also head of the International Federation of Trade Unions, was present when the council announced in the report it had voted secession from the international on the ground that it has "revolutionary policies."

"Flag Day" Exercises in Elks' Home Last Night

for charity, truth and justice, violets for love and fidelity, and a crown of stars for the welding of the nation. The bell then tolled 11 strokes in remembrance of departed brothers.

A medley of patriotic airs was then played, including "Dixie," which inspired a round of applause, by the orchestra, and Miss Evelyn Hunt recited "The National Flag."

The orator of the evening, Bro. W. I. Gilbert of Los Angeles Lodge No. 99 was introduced and received a most cordial greeting. His theme was "The Flag and What It Stands For." He commented on the applause which had greeted "Dixie" as well as the songs of the north even on the part of the gray-haired veterans of the civil war, who were special guests of the evening and declared that only such a democratic flag as the Stars and Stripes could thus wipe out the discords that had arrayed men against each other in such a war as took place in the sixties. But it should not be forgotten that these men who fought on the two sides of a great question were of the same fibre with a respect for each other. Our flag, he said, is the one great symbol of the unity of the American people, the one thing that will make everybody unselfish. We all remember, said he, when America entered the world war how every man, woman and child forgot to be selfish and marched behind the flag until victory was achieved.

He referred to the bolshevistic poison abroad in the land and to the necessity for eternal vigilance to combat that disrupting influence and preserve unsullied the principles and spirit which the flag represents.

Referring to the debt we and the flag of our country owe to the boys who sleep in Flanders, he said: It is not too much for each one of us to do something for the flag every day of the 365 days of the year. "Have you ever stopped to think what it would mean to your business or mine if the Stars and Stripes did not float over it?" he inquired. "Does not the flag represent the entire nation behind one individual? The flag in itself is not only the national emblem but the guarantee of home and country. There is no other government like that of the United States, no other country where people live and move in freedom of thought and action as in the United States of America, and it is all molded together in the beautiful emblem of the Star Spangled Banner."

CIRCLE LUNCHEON AT LA RAMADA

In the beautiful grounds at La Ramada, which are gay with flags, and with the national colors festooned above the tables, members of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle to the number of about 225, are enjoying their annual luncheon, which closes the circle year.

Several toasts will be given at the luncheon, which will be followed by a program in the afternoon. In charge of the luncheon are Mrs. H. V. Henry, Mrs. G. H. Rowe and Mrs. Vierick, and the talent thus combined is an assurance of its success. Representatives of the first district Parent-Teacher association will be guests of honor, and Mrs. A. A. Barton, chairman of the circle, will preside.

ON TO HIM

A number of stars on the cuff of a soldier aroused the fair visitor's curiosity.

"He's the battalion astronomer," explained her escort, gravely. "Most useful man. Guides us home by the stars when we've lost our way on night maneuvers."

"How interesting," said the maiden. Then, noting the bandsman's badge, the representation of an ancient stringed instrument, she exclaimed, slyly: "I suppose that thing on your arm means that you're the regimental lyre!"

AMERICAN LEGION BENEFIT FOR SICK FUND

Do you love fun?

Will Rogers and Charley Murray will be there to hand it out, according to the program.

Do you like music?

Mme. Constance Balfour, Morris Stoloff, Esther Rhodes, A. Ivanoff, Sonia Zariova and G. W. Golukeff will be there to sing and play for you.

Do you crave vaudeville?

Louise Dresser and Jack Gardner, home town folks whose names blaze on Broadway, Billy Fay, Margaret Collington and company, Dot Farley, Jane Crawley and others, will be among those taking part.

Do you admire dancing?

The McAdam dancers—six of the most sprightly and beautiful—will grace the program presented tonight at the Palace Grand theater for Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion Sick Fund benefit. There will be 12 acts, maybe more, if plans and promises carry to completion. And there will be the American Legion band out in front for a half-hour prior to this all-star performance.

Inside, Nils Gilliam and his Palace Grand syncopators will jazz up at 8 o'clock and the big show will get away to an early start with a three-hour program ahead.

Columns could be written on any one of the stars, all of whom have donated their services to this cause. Why Will Rogers has been the biggest hit on Broadway in the Winter Garden show; and the name, Louise Dresser, is drawing card enough to pack the house; Mme. Constance Balfour has a world of fame, while little Sonia Zariova tells a tale of escaping from the bolsheviki that would equal anything ever written.

So on the story goes, each and every unmber being different and of first water. The McAdam dancers from the only normal school of dancing in the west will provide a wonderful spectacle, while "Bringing Up Father," a comedy playlet by Los Angeles professionals, will make tears of joy come to the eyes.

There are no two ways about it. There is going to be the biggest crowd of the year at the Palace Grand theater to get the few seats which remain unsold—possibly half of the house—which last as long as ice in the sunshine.

Be early everybuddie.

"GLEN AND DALE"

A meeting of the Glendale Conventiontion committee was held in the Christian church, Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:00. Howard Brown presided and there was a full attendance of all committee chairmen and many of their assistants. Glen and Dale probably agree that the entertainment committee has the biggest job, that of finding sleeping accommodations for the delegates and yet everyone so far has been very generous with their help. The regular canvass for room will be made Saturday of this week and with the hundred or more signed up and others who are volunteering the work can be completed.

The publicity committee had a good report. Watch the outsides and interiors of the Pacific Electric cars the last of this week for definite results of their work and realize that not only Glendale cars but those of other lines are advertising this city far and wide. In order to accommodate picnic crowds and those going back and forth to Eagle Rock, Mr. Nelson, assistant transportation manager, announced that special trains would be put on the Montrose and Eagle Rock lines.

Two new assistants have been put in the Christian Endeavor headquarters, Roy Kent's office, 130 South Brand boulevard. Miss Doric Becker of Eagle Rock, who is also an officer in the Los Angeles county Christian Endeavor Union and Tom Holden, a recent graduate of Occidental College, who is a past president of the Pasadena District Christian Endeavor Union. Both of these active Endeavorers will be of great help to the convention committee.

In harmony with the general spirit of cooperation that is animating the community and its organized bodies in connection with the state Christian Endeavor convention that is to be held here June 25 to 29, the Tuesday Afternoon Club voted to give 650 lunch boxes for a Christian Endeavor picnic, and about 25 members volunteered to act as captains of teams who would guarantee to furnish the luncheons for which the boxes would be provided by Christian Endeaver committee, who would collect and distribute the lunches tothe picnickers.

'THE STYLUS,' HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL, IS BEST EVER ISSUED

The Stylus, which is put out by the Senior class of the Glendale high school each year, came out yesterday and is the first Stylus ever put out on time, that is, before school closed for the year. It is the best Stylus ever put out by any class from that school and is 32 pages larger than last year's. The number of copies printed could not satisfy the demand.

It is printed on the finest of book paper and is beautifully designed. It has in it stores on organization, activity, and events of the school during the past year.

It is the result of much hard work on the part of the staff, which consists of Carroll Parcher, editor-in-chief; Arthur Campbell, business manager, and David Folz, advertising manager.

Faculty advisors were Normal C. Hayhurst, class advisor, to whom the book was dedicated; Miss Muller, art directress; Miss Freeman, literary critic, and Mr. Baker, auditor.

SENIORS PREPARE FAREWELL DANCE

The graduating class of the local high school will have their annual Senior Farewell dance, Friday evening, at 8:30, in the new gymnasium. This will be the last opportunity for the members of the class to be together, so a large crowd is expected. No couple will be admitted without one of the two is either a member of the alumni or is attending the school now.

A good time is promised to all who come for the dance committee is as follows: David Folz, chairman; Warren Meeker, music; Philip Begue, decorations; Edith Haggman, patrons; Jessie Gregg, programs; William Farner, refreshments.

The following will be the patrons: Mr. and Mrs. George U. Moyse, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Hayhurst, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. White, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Yarick, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wyman, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Watson, Miss Knight and Miss Mona C. Gardner.

"Clean-Up Day"

The full text of the communication transmitted to the chamber of commerce by City Manager Watson relative to the arrangements for Clean-Up Day is given herewith for the information of citizens:

June 14, 1921.

J. M. Rhoades, Secretary Chamber of Commerce:

Pursuant to the report and recommendation of joint committees representing the chamber of commerce and city appointed to make arrangements for general clean-up day for the ranged that the city will cooperate in this movement as follows.

Tuesday, the 21st instant, will be designated as "Clean-Up Day." The people of the city are requested to gather all waste matter and rubbish that is not easily combustible on their premises and place the same in the alley at the rear of their lot or place it in the street gutter on this date. City teams will gather and dispose of the same the following day. In this connection it is urged that all waste matter and rubbish that is set out to be removed be placed if possible in receptacles convenient for handling. When this is not practicable it should be placed in compact piles so as to require the least time in handling.

Your committee reported large accumulations of rubbish, tree trimmings, etc., in the alleys. It is requested that owners of abutting property gather this in piles convenient for removal. Your committee also reported large accumulations of waste matter, rubbish, etc., at the rear of business buildings in the business district. The business men are requested to have this gathered and placed in receptacles convenient for handling.

Yours sincerely,
T. W. WATSON,
City Manager.

Judge by Past Record

Glendale Good Government League,
Glendale, Calif.:

Gentlemen.—In reply to your questionnaire I would say that in my opinion the best possible qualifications for the office of councilman is his past record, regardless of his length of residence or religious views.

I have had the honor of serving the city of Glendale and the city of Tropico in the office of trustee for over seven years and during this time such important steps have been taken in civic development as to attract the attention and earn the respect of the entire state. As a city Glendale ranks among the highest and this is in a great measure due to the efficient manner in which her affairs have been handled. It has not been possible to please every individual nor set of individuals but our reputation as a progressive city is ample testimony that our city business has been properly handled.

If my record in office and my knowledge of the city's business warrants the approval and support of the people, I shall be glad to have it, but as far as any pledge is concerned I can only point to my record and say that if elected there will be no change from the broad American policies I have always stood for and which are plainly and unmistakably reflected in my record.

Yours very truly,
C. H. HENRY.

Glendale, June 14, 1921.

"Editor Glendale Press:—At the coming election to be held June 28, the voters of this city will again be given an opportunity to vote for a swimming pool. However, this time the issue will not be sandwiched or tied up with anything else. It stands alone on its merits and it will be up to the people of Glendale to decide whether or not they want to do something of real benefit for the finest lot of young folks in the state. These boys and girls have been promised this improvement for a long time. They have worked hard to get it and we should give it to them. Take a look around your own neighborhood and see what inducements you have to offer the boys. To give you a fair example, let me describe conditions on my own street. Adjoining my own home are three vacant lots. The boys have laid out a baseball diamond, a football field, a golf course and a bicycle track. At any time now, these lots are liable to be built on. Then what happens? There is no place for a good, live, energetic boy to play except in the street and the streets are all cluttered up with automobiles. Practically the same conditions exist throughout our entire city. If the boys go down to the river for a swim, usually there is trouble when they get home, for most of us parents don't like the river idea. Every driver of an auto who travels to Pasadena by way of Colorado street will testify that almost any day (school days excepted) they are begged for rides by Glendale boys going to Brookside park for a swim. It should not be necessary for them to do this and if this bond issue carries, they won't have to.

Now then. The city of Glendale owns a small park of approximately eight acres in the northwestern part of the city. There is ample space there for a large pool for the older children and a shallow pool for the little folks. Seventeen thousand dollars will pay the cost of both. The other $5000 will be used to pay off the debt that the city owes on this park.

It will cost the tax payers just about 3 cents on every $100 assessed. In other words, if the assessor values your home at $3000, you pay 90 cents a year additional tax. I claim it is worth it.

At present there is no organized effort to boost this bond issue and election time is drawing near. On behalf of the many boys and girls of this city, I appeal to the voters of Glendale to vote "yes" for the swimming pool.

A. H. LAPHAM.

Municipal League Formed

During the past five or six weeks, there has been under discussion the advisability of organizing the voters of Glendale who believe in the principles of a business administration for a bigger and better Glendale, with the final organization of the Municipal League. This league has adopted for its principles the following resolutions:

"Believing that the city of Glendale should be a mutual association for the benefit of all its citizens.

"That a majority of the stockholders in the city government, meaning thereby all the voters of the city, should decide all the public issues and that city business is real business.

"We have formed a municipal league for the purpose of endorsing candidates for the office of city council whom we believe represent these ideals and will be public service business builders for a greater Glendale, and will work for their election."

With the above principles in mind and with a view to selecting candidates who represent the principles as laid down by the Municipal League and also with the idea in mind of selecting candidates from the various locations in Glendale in order that each district will have representation in the city affairs, we are endorsing the following candidates: Howard L. Walker, W. B. Kirk, Ann P. Bartlett, C. H. Muhleman, H. W. Yarick.

Chairman.
WM. McMILLAN,
Secretary.

MR. EDITOR We want to say a few things to you

FIRST—Tell the ladies we still continue to adjust any SEWING MACHINE in the city for $1.00.

SECOND—Tell them NOT TO BUY any new SEWING MACHINES until they CONSULT US, and not to believe any agent that tells them their old machine is WORN OUT, but to 'phone 2285-R and let us PASS ON IT FIRST. (No charge.) We may SAVE THEM THE PRICE OF A NEW MACHINE.

THIRD—Also tell them we want to buy 100 machines for CASH, and that we ALWAYS have on hand a LARGE stock of USED machines for sale and RENT.

FOURTH—(NOW LISTEN; THIS IS IMPORTANT!) Don't forget to say to all LADIES' AID AND SEWING CIRCLES that we will adjust their sewing machines ABSOLUTELY FREE OF COST. Tell them to 'phone 2285-R and ask for Mr. Ervey. He will call at once at their Circle. Tell them not to worry; we can fix it. What we want is FRIENDS, NOT MONEY.

FIFTH—(NOW LISTEN AGAIN) We want you to insist that EVERY LADY CUTS THIS ADVERTISEMENT OUT AT ONCE, and puts it in her SEWING MACHINE DRAWER for future reference for the REASON if at ANY TIME she buys a NEW MACHINE and presents this ad it will be good for $5.00 AS A PAYMENT.

SIXTH—In summing up:

We adjust machines for $1.00.
We have used machines for rent and sale.
We want to buy One Hundred for cash.
We sell new Singers and other makes.

We pay $5.00 for information leading to the sale of a new machine; $3.00 for the sale of a used machine.

As to Our Reliability, ask the President of the First National Bank

We thank you.

TRAINS SHOULD STOP

One of our Glendale residents who recently returned from a trip to the north is quite worked up over the fact that so large a proportion of the Southern Pacific trains that pass through the city do not stop here and travelers are required to go to Los Angeles to take trains that pass through their town. He has furnished a list of such trains in order to emphasize the matter and prove his case. Following is a list of the trains and the hours at which they leave from or arrive in Los Angeles:

No. 77 leaves 8 a. m., No. 78 arrives 10 p. m., No. 76 arrives 9:30 a. m., No. 75 leaves 8 p. m., No. 25 arrives 6 p. m., No. 26 arrives 8:50 a. m., No. 101 leaves 10:15 p. m., No. 102 arrives 7:45 a. m., No. 59 leaves 6:15 p. m., No. 60 leaves 8:15 a. m., No. 49 leaves 7:30 p. m., No. 50 arrives 10 a. m., No. 17 leaves 10 p. m., No. 110 arrives 1:45 p. m. and No. 149 which leaves at 4 p. m. and which can be flagged here.

So important is this matter considered by Secretary Rhoades of the Chamber of Commerce that it was brought up at a meeting of the directorate and the transportation committee instructed to take it up with the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Mr. Rhoades himself has consulted some of the officials, who defended their policy on the ground that no adequate provisions have been made by Glendale for the protection of passengers who may arrive at night and debark at the Glendale station. No lights are there and no proper approaches, so the bewildered traveler is liable to stagger into a pool of water while trying to get his bearings and find out where the town lies.

It must be admitted there is considerable material for defense in this arraignment and the lighting of the station should be seen to at once. Also, should arrangements be made for trains to stop regularly at night, the police officer on that beat should be instructed to meet the train to direct any passengers who might debark.

If Glendale is to be the big city we all expect it to be we cannot begin too soon to see that it is placed on the map to the extent of being made a stopping place for trains on the only transcontinental line that passes through our city, and Glendale must do its part in paving the way for action by the railroad.

THE NURSE

Graduation week causes the mind instinctively to turn to school and college; yet, as we have had cause only recently to learn, not the least of the classes are those whose members are receiving their diplomas from the hospital training schools.

Whatever it may once have been, the position of nurse is now definiately defined. The war served not to establish but to emphasize the fact. The name of Edith Cavell is representative, standing for the skill and bravery, the heroic devotion to duty and the sacrifice which those of the profession are ready to, and do, make.

What the nurse was in war she is in peace. The service she renders is none the less, if not so spectacular. The hospitals recently took occasion to call attention to the fact, devoting the day set aside by presidential proclamation for emphasis of their own services to pointing to the training schools and the value of their graduates to the world at large.

The young women who are now graduating as trained nurses have spent long, hard years in preparation for service to mankind. In the years to come they will not lead lives of ease, nor will their monetary return be large. But who can say that they will not feel amply repaid for their sacrifices by knowledge of the work they are doing?

GRAVE AND GAY

A Little Bit

A little bit of sugar makes the bitterest coffee seem
Like an aromatic flavor in a cup of bonny cream.
A little bit of sunshine makes the cloudiest spell appear
No longer than a minute—no damper than a tear.
A little bit of loving makes a century of strife
Like an amaranthine morning on the honeyed hills of life.
A little bit of courage makes an age of quaking glow
With the spirit of the heroes when the world began to grow.
A little bit of laughter makes the saddest day a thing
In whose gates of apple blossom everybody wants to sing.

What is the Vortex?

There was a Ghetto scene at a Fort Lee studio. Some Eastside children were furnishing local color. "Now everybody on his toes," said the director. "This is the big scene; in fact, it's the vortex of the plot."

"Do you know what 'vortex' is, Izzy?" asked the star of a little boy in the group.

"Soitenly, miss," was the reply. "That's the extra cent you pay for an ice cream cone."

The Professor's Class

Scene—Lecture room.
Time—11:58 a. m.
(Shuffling of feet, rattle of coppers, audible signs of "Let's go.")
Professor (wearily)—"Just a moment, gentlemen. I have yet a few pearls to cast."

"There are a thousand lilacs in full bloom in my front yard."
Gee! Wish I could 'lilac' that!"

The Problem of Prayer

One bleak December day the passengers on a transatlantic liner were sitting wrapped in furs and rugs in a sheltered corner of the promenade deck. The seas were mountain high. The good old Cunarder seemed to stand on her head one minute, and the next to rear up on her hind legs.

A small boy made his way to a young woman who occupied one of the steamer chairs. He steadied himself against her arm and said:

"Mama, is it wrong that we pray to get home safe?"

"Of course not, dear."

"Well," the youngster went on, "I've been kneeling on the locker trying to pray that we arrive safe in port, and each time I begin the ship heaves up and throws me on the deck."

That Makes a Difference

"Bill is going to retire from business for five years."

"Oh, I've heard him say that before."

"Yes, but this time the judge said it."

Series of Articles on Patents, Inventions, Etc.

By WILLIAM C. CUTLER of Glendale, California

INTERFERENCES

An interference procedure before the Patent Office is an action by Patent Office officials to determine priority of invention between two or more inventors. It may be either a simple, inexpensive and quickly decided proceeding, or a complicated, expensive, long drawn out one. The outcome depends (owing to the out of date, needlessly technical methods now employed) largely upon the monetary condition of one or both parties and how much importance is attached to the application. A wealthy corporation, by taking advantage of dilatory practices now allowed and the taking of testimony, restricted in location only by the United States and its possessions, can wear out an inventor of small means. It is hoped that changes will soon be made that will terminate the present abominable methods.

From section 4904 of the statutes: "Whenever an application is made for a patent which, in the opinion of the commissioner, would interfere with any pending application, or with any unexpired patent, he shall give notice thereof to the applicant or applicants and patentee, as the case may be, and shall direct the primary examiner to proceed to determine the question of priority of invention. And the commissioner may issue a patent to the party who is adjudged the prior invention, unless the adverse party appeals from the decision of the primary examiner, or of the board of examiners in chief, as the case may be; within such time, not less than 20 days, as the commissioner shall subscribe."

Q.—Interference? What is an?

A.—It is a proceeding by the Patent Office to determine which, of two or more applicants whose applications are before the office at the same time, is entitled to the patent.

Q.—Interference proceedings? Is there any other occasion for?

A.—Yes; in case a person believes himself to be the first and true inventor of a device ffor which a patent has been granted to some other party, ventor of a device for which a patent by filing an application himself, if the patent has not been issued for over two years.

Q.—If he prevails, what is the result?

A.—He is granted a patent, because of which the first one may be adjudged void.

Q.—Interference proceedings by the Patent Office. How are they carried on?

A.—The parties are notified by the patent office and file statements of date of conception and reduction to practice in a manner prescribed by the Patent Office rules. "A hearing," so called, is then arranged by the examiner of interferences. After the decision an appeal can be taken to the commissioner of patents, and from him to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia, if the losing party so desires.

Q.—Fees or charges? Are there any?

A.—No government charges, except in case of appeal.

APPEALS

The word "appeal" as used here applies to proceedings between the Patent Office and the attorney in the matter of patent application, and not to "appeals" in patent litigation. Appeals which result in stronger claims being granted than will be allowed by the primary examiner are carefully considered by counsel for defense and sometimes result disastrously in litigation.

Claims which are so near the border line in disallowance as only to be granted upon "appeal" to higher tribunals in the patent office are frequently difficult to maintain when subjected to dissection on the part of a competent patent attorney for the defendant. It is not wise to feel overconfident as regards the strength of claims allowed under such circumstances.

Q.—Appeal. What is it?

A.—An application for a review of a decision of a primary examiner.

Q.—How does it arise in the application for a patent?

A.—When the primary examiner twice rejects a claim the inventor may appeal from his decision.

Q.—Appeal made to whom and why?

A.—To a tribunal termed the board of examiners in chief. It is an effort on the inventor's part to change the decision of the primary examiner.

Q.—If this board refuses to grant what the inventor seeks, can further appeal be made?

A.—Yes, to the commissioner of patents, and if he reports adversely, to the court of appeals.

Q.—Fees or charges made in appeals. Are there any?

A.—Yes; there is a government fee.

Q.—What is the government fee for appeal to examiner in chief?

A.—$10.

Q.—What is government fee for appeal to commissioner?

A.—$20.

Q.—What is government fee for appeal to court of appeal?

A.—Cost of court.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

New Movie Expansion.

The extent to which motion pictures are being used for other purposes than entertainment will be realized by many people for the first time this week, when they see the announcement of a combination of non-theatrical motion picture producers for the establishment of exchanges thruout the United States for the distribution of pictures of purely educational or industrial interest. The significance of the new combination is its plans for the wide extension of this use of motion pictures.

As to the field already prepared: There are, it is stated, more than 44,000 churches in the United States that are using motion pictures of which the Roman Catholic churches number 17,000 and the Methodist 10,700. Among educational institutions, out of 38,000 queried by the bureau of education in Washington only 6,761 were found not using motion pictures either in their own buildings or in halls hired to show educational films to the students. Most of the universities in the country have now departments of visual education and a survey made recently by the National Academy of Visual Instruction shows a proportion of 330 projection machines to each 5,500 elementary schools, and 670 to every 4,500 institutions of higher learning.

Besides this, organizations such as the Y. M. C. A. the Y. W. C. A., the women's clubs, societies for nature study, welfare, health, civics, history and travel are adopting motion pictures as a means of demonstrating their ideas in such large numbers that the twelve manufacturers now engaged in making standard portable projectors are planning to turn them out during the coming year at the rate of 1,200 to 1,500 a week in order to meet the demand.

Manufacturers themselves are using films not only for advertising their products, but for educational work among their employes. There are 6,000 manufacturers in this country who show pictures to their workers every day at lunch hour. One large mining corporation has built nine theaters for its employes, one of which cost $400,000.—New York Times.

Contented May Allison

May Allison is a perfectly satisfied young woman these days. In addition to taking a well-earned rest she is enjoying the sensation caused by her announcement that she had decided not to renew her contract with Metro. From every quarter of the globe daily comes messages of friendship, of appreciation and of curiosity. Every letter indicates that her popularity as a cinema star is now at its zenith and that the writer really is anxious to learn whether she will remain in pictures or return to the legitimate stage, where she scored many signal successes as a comedienne. Two very flattering offers to return to the stage are now being considered by her, but as her heart and her home is in Southern California her friends believe that soon it will be announced she has elected to remain in pictures as a star and as the head of her own producing company. Her home is in Beverly Hills, probably the most exclusive and the most beautiful residence district in the world. It is known as Allisonia and in a recent magazine article was described as "being in a hill-and-vale paradise already gemmed with more palaces than can be found in an era of similar dimensions on earth."

FINANCE AND JUSTICE

A former judge who had become a cashier in a western bank, once declined to honor a check that a stranger had presented. "The check is all right," he said, "but the evidence you offer in identifying yourself as the person to whose order it is drawn is scarcely sufficient.

"I have known you to hang a man on less evidence, judge," was the stranger's response.

"Quite likely," replied the ex-judge; "but when we're giving up cold cash, we have to be careful.

If we had a sixth sense, some wag would call it the war tax.

EXPLAINED

"When I was once in danger from a lion," said the old African explorer, "I tried sitting down and staring at him, as I had no weapons."

"How did it work?" asked his companion.

"Perfectly. The lion didn't even offer to touch me."

"Strange! How do you account for it?"

"Well, sometimes I've thought it was because I sat down on the branch of a very tall tree."

Go out to the cemetery and you will find hundreds of people who intended to do better next year.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

WASHINGTON, June 15. — President Harding has definitely decided to defer until fall the appointment of a chief justice of the United States supreme court to succeed the late Edward Douglas White, it was learned at the White House today.

BERLIN, June 15. — General Loronde, head of the allied high commission in Upper Silesia, today ordered the British troops to suspend their advance against the Polish insurgents until the German volunteers withdraw in accordance with the commission's orders.

LONDON, June 15.—Three hundred and fifty Chinese soldiers have been killed in battle between regulars and insurgents near Siaokan, said a news agency dispatch from Hankow today. The Chinese forces that had attacked Wu-Chang fled northward. Their train was sidetracked near Siaokan and attacked from ambush.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 15.—Complete returns today showed that George E. Leach, unofficial Republican candidate, was elected mayor of Minneapolis by more than 14,000 votes over Thomas Van Lor, labor and coalition candidate. Four new socialist and labor councilmen were elected, making 11 in the council of 26 aldermen.

PARIS, June 15.—The French ambassador at Berlin, M. Laurent, today was instructed to make energetic representations to the German government over the refusal of General Hoefer to withdraw the German volunteers in Upper Silesia. It is believed that similar action will be taken by England and Italy.

LONDON, June 15.—The engineering trade which has been threatening strike over a wage cut, today accepted the offer of the ministry of labor to intervene in an effort to effect a compromise.

PARIS, June 15.—The council of ambassadors today demanded that Germany surrender all the airplanes and dirigible balloons constructed since the Boulogne agreement was enacted. Germany also was warned not to build any more aircraft for a specified period of time. Germany was accused of violating the Boulogne agreement which was drawn up about a year ago.

BELFAST, June 15.—Two civilians were killed in rioting which was in progress in this city most of the night. A girl who was wounded when snipers fired upon a trolley car, died in the hospital.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15. — The surface of California's agricultural possibilities has scarcely been scraped, John S. Chambers, state controller, today declared in an address on the "Material Development of California" before 1500 delegates from all over the country attending the twenty-sixth annual convention of the National Association of Credit Men.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15. — The San Francisco marine engineers today were on record as protesting against the reported agreement signed at Washington with the shipping board by W. S. Brown, national head of the engineers' organization, and as favoring the resignation of Brown if he has signed an agreement. Lacking official details of the reported action of their leader, no further action was taken. The meeting was attended by 500 members of the union, including 40 members of the Seattle local, who, following the meeting, telegraphed their union requesting that similar action be taken there.

LONDON, June 15.—An alliance of Russia and China against Japan was predicted today by Washington D. Vanderlip, head of an American syndicate which has secured rich commercial concessions from the soviet. Mr. Vanderlip sailed for New York on the Olympia, being a fellow voyager with Admiral Sims.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio, whose relations with the administration have become suddenly strained over patronage matters, called at the White House today and held a conversation with President Harding. Senator Willis said on leaving the White House that his discussion with the President concerned "Ohio matters." He said that the nomination of Charles Vaunt as internal revenue collector for the Tenth (Toledo) district, which caused the break, was not mentioned by either the President or himself.

DENVER, Colo., June 15.—The Farmers' National Council, in a telegram to the convention of the American Federation of Labor today, announces the farmers welcome a closer alliance with organized labor.

PARIS, June 15.—The French government is sending a military mission to Japan, headed by Marshal Joffre, it was announced today. The press is devoting considerable space to comment upon the strengthening of relations between this country and Japan as a result of the visit of the crown prince.

THREE ARE ADDED TO DIRECTORATE OF TUESDAY CLUB

The Masonic Temple was crowded to capacity at the meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club yesterday afternoon, this fact again demonstrating the need of the club for much more commodious quarters.

Mrs. A. P. Finlay, Mrs. O. E. Von Oven and Miss Eva Daniels, were elected directors, according to a provision in the recently amended by-laws that three directors be added to make a board of twelve instead of nine. The ladies elected yesterday drew lots for the terms they will serve, Mrs. Von Oven drawing the three-year term, Mrs. Finlay the two-year term, and Miss Daniels the one-year term.

Other features of the meeting were the reading of a letter from Albert Pearce, legal advisor of the club; a talk by Lincoln Hart, on the aims of the Ethical Motion Picture society; and a charming pianologue by Ann Thompson.

These features will be described more fully in tomorrow's issue of the Daily Press.

OPEN LETTER BY DR. HARROWER ON SUNDAY CLOSING QUESTION

On another page will be found an advertisement with an open letter to the Ministerial Association of Glendale, to members of the Federated Brotherhood and others by Dr. Henry R. Harrower of this city setting forth his attitude toward Sunday closing. The doctor argues that it would be an infringement of constitutional rights as Americans if inaugurated in Glendale, and that it is a more important matter than appears on the surface. As it is a question of universal interest, the doctor's letter will be carefully read by those who disagree with him as well as those who advocate Sunday closing.

Notice To Our Patrons

We beg to announce a reduction to 60 cents per 100 pounds in the price of Ice delivered to family and retail trade in general in the City of Glendale, commencing tomorrow, June 15. This reduction is made possible by a general reduction in our operating and delivering costs, and it is with pleasure that we share this good fortune with our patrons.

ICE — MADE IN GLENDALE

Our Ice is clean and pure, and we do not treat the Glendale city water, from which we make it with aluminum-sulphate or any other harmful chemical usually employed by manufacturers of raw-water ice. Instead, we have a modern, sanitary and efficient system of filtration, which not only purifies but softens the water, and all water runs through this filtering system before it is made into ice.

Thanking you for your patronage in the past and soliciting your further orders, we remain,

Yours very truly,

SENIOR CLASS DAY EXERCISES

The senior class day exercises were held in the high school auditorium last evening at 8:30. A large crowd attended and very few seats were left empty.

The class began the program by singing "O Fair Glendale."

The class prophecy was dramatized by several members of the class. The first scene was laid in the drawing room of the Farner home in the year 1931. William Farner, a prominent lawyer, and his wife, Mercedes Sponge, had Eva Green as a maid. Dean Culberson and Mrs. Culberson (Amber Young), visit Mr. and Mrs. Farner. Through their conversations and a conversation that Mr. Farner had over the telephone, the prophecy of some of the members of the class was given.

The next scene was laid in Mr. Farner's law office, where Lucile Wood is stenographer and Dorchestra Walsh is janitor boy. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Read (Garnet Peters), attempt to get a divorce through Mr. Farner. Lois Webb also came on the scene and meets an old friend, D. Walsh. The conversations were so well worked out that the whole prophecy was given.

Agnes Brown gave a saxophone solo and the class will was read by Esther Black, who also wrote the will. Eva Green gave a whistling solo which was appreciated very much. Nellie Rowe gave several readings and the program was concluded by the singing of the class song by the entire class.

DETECTIVES ON STILL HUNT FOR LARGE SUM OF MISSING MONEY

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 15.—With "Big Tim" Murphy, political and labor leader, who is held as the "brains" in the $380,000 Polk street station mail robbery, safely confined in the jail at Joliet, federal operatives began a still hunt today to recover some $200,000 of the loot, which is still missing.

The federal officers also were probing the alleged connection between the gas house labor leader with two other big crimes—the looting of the Illinois Central railway station, when a collector was slain, and the robbery of a big bank.

While "Big Tim' loudly protested his innocence, his political lieutenant, Vincenzo Cosmano, also under arrest, maintained discreet silence.

Information developed by the police shows that the actual perpetration of the Polk street robbery was in charge of two notorious gangsters. One of these, Martin Sicks, is now in Joliet prison for the $250,000 Heller-Rose robbery.

Federal officials who declare Murphy's share in the Polk street robbery was $200,000, assert he was often host at a "crime flat" he maintained on Sheridan road.

Eight arrests have been made in connection with the robbery but John Northup, special federal district attorney, said all but Murphy and Cosmano were "lesser fry' and that the government's case would be centered against Murphy. Northup called Murphy a "crime bungler" and said he made errors that a schoolboy might have avoided.

It is a poor sort of a man who, recalling the days he used to struggle to get into a shirt which opened in the back, will not admit that the world has grown better.

BARBARA KING HOSTESS TO CHUMS

Little Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. King of 214 North Belmont street, was hostess to 23 of her girl classmates of Doran street school, at a pretty lawn party yesterday afternoon. Misses Louise Daugherty and Evelyn Harris assisted the charming little hostess in entertaining the merry guests. After doing justice to the refreshments the afternoon was passed in games. The rooms were beautifully decorated with pink carnations and the same color scheme was carried out in the refreshments of ice cream, cake and candies. As a climax to the delightful party a group picture was taken.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS AT MRS. HUTTON'S

Ladies of the Christian church engineered a very pleasant little surprise party which took place Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Eva Hutton at 326 East Colorado street. The special guests of honor were Miss Clara Hutton who is leaving Thursday via Santa Fe for the east, Mrs. Mary Shropshire and daughter Lilian, who took the train Wednesday evening on the Southern Pacific for Chicago, and Mrs. Weisenheimer. Games and music provided a pleasant social afternoon for the 35 ladies present and refreshments were served.

The same evening about 25 members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Christian church gathered at Mrs. Hutton's home for a little party in honor of Willard Learned, who graduates this year from Occidental and who is going to Indianapolis in the fall to attend the Missionary Training school in that city. It was the kind of a good time that such young people always have when they come together for music and games, and of course refreshments were served.
